

Question: Question: How does Gene Ontology (GO) differ from the Human Genome Organization Ontology (HUGO) ?

GO is used for describing the functions of genes and gene products. The focus of HUGO is nomenclature; the organized identification and naming of genes themselves.

If your question was not answered on this page, please start a new thread in the Vocabulary Knowledge Center forum for this terminology.